- There are no financial eligibility requirements.

Eligibility is based only on a child meeting one or more of the following criteria:

- 1. Diagnosed by a multi-disciplinary team as having a significant delay in one or more of the following areas of development in accordance with the State's definition:
 - Cognitive development
 - Physical development including vision and hearing
 - Communication development
 - Social and emotional development
 - Adaptive development
- 2. Diagnosed physical or mental condition that has a high probability of resulting in developmental delay. Examples of such conditions include, but are not limited to:

Referrals

Parents, physicians, service providers, or others who think a child may need early intervention services should refer the child to the Regional Administrative Unit (RAU) for the county where the child lives (see listing on next page). By federal law, primary referral sources are required to make a referral within seven days of suspecting that a child may be in need of early intervention services. Effective July 1, 2012, in accordance with federal regulations, children who are referred to WV Birth to Three less than 45 days before their third birthday will not be evaluated for eligibility. Parents will be provided information about other possible resources that could benefit their children and, with parent consent, WV Birth to Three will assist with referring these children to the county school district to determine whether the child is eligible for services.

Children age three years or older with suspected developmental delays should be referred to their local county school district for possible services.

Assessment/Plan

Children who are suspected of having or being at significant risk of developmental delay may receive a multidisciplinary evaluation to determine eligibility for WV Birth to Three services under Part C IDEA. The assessment also helps to identify the needs of the child and family. With participation of the family, an Individualized Family Service Plan (IFSP) is developed based upon the strength and abilities of the child and shaped by the concerns and priorities of the family. Services and supports listed on the plan are targeted to help the family promote the child's development through participation in daily routines and learning opportunities.

According to federal law, Part C services identified on a child/family's IFSP are delivered in natural environments. Families determine the environment in which the child would be if he/she was not in need of early intervention services. Services may also support the family's participation in community activities and everyday routines.

A variety of specialists may be called upon to help the family decide what strategies and services are needed to address their unique outcomes. These specialists may include:

- Audiologists
- Counselors, social workers
- Child development specialists
- Nurses
- Occupational therapists
- Physical therapists
- Registered dieticians
- Speech language pathologists
- Vision specialists

WV Birth to Three provides these services through enrolled professionals who meet the highest standard in their respective discipline. Transportation may be a Part C service in the rare instances when a family may have to travel to obtain a WV Birth to Three service.

Cost of Services

Part C services listed on a child/family's IFSP are provided at no cost to the family. WV Birth to Three may bill public insurance with no cost to the family.

These services are funded in part by the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA), Part C, through the U.S. Department of Education and the West Virginia Department of Health (the state's lead agency responsible for implementation), Bureau for Public Health, Office of Maternal, Child and Family, Health, in cooperation with the West Virginia Early Intervention Interagency Coordinating Council.

How to Get Help for Your Child

Talking to the doctor is the first step toward getting help for your child if you are concerned about his or her development (how your child plays, learns, speaks, acts, or moves). Don't wait. Acting early can make a real difference!

Make an appointment with your child's doctor

When you schedule the appointment, tell the doctor's staff you have concerns about your child's development that you would like to discuss with the doctor.

2 Complete a milestone checklist

- Before the appointment, complete a milestone checklist by downloading CDC's free Milestone Tracker mobile app from the App Store or Google Play or printing a paper checklist from www.cdc.gov/Milestones.
- Write down your questions and concerns; take these with you to the doctor's appointment.

3 During the doctor's appointment

- Show the completed milestone checklist to the doctor
 - > If your child is missing milestones, point them out, and share any other concerns that you have.
 - If your child is not missing milestones but you still have concerns, tell the doctor about them.
- Ask the doctor for developmental screening for your child
 - > Developmental screening is recommended whenever there is a concern.

 It gives the doctor more information to figure out how best to help your child.
 - > For more information about developmental screening, go to www.cdc.gov/DevScreening.
- Ask the doctor if your child needs further developmental evaluation
 - If your child does, ask for a referral and call right away. If you have difficulty getting an appointment, let the doctor know.

4 Make sure you understand what the doctor tells you, and what to do next

- Before you leave the appointment, check the notes you have written and make sure all of your questions have been answered.
- If you do not understand something, ask the doctor to explain it again or in a different way.
- When you get home, review your notes and follow the steps the doctor has given you. Remember, you can always contact the doctor's office if you have any questions.

You Know Your Child Best

If your child's doctor has told you to "wait and see," but you feel uneasy about that advice:

Talk with others (doctor, teacher, another provider) to get a second opinion

AND

Call for a free evaluation to find out if your child can get free or low-cost services that can help.

- If your child is under age 3: Call your state's early intervention program. Find the phone number at www.cdc.gov/FindEl.
- If your child is age 3 or older: Call the local public elementary school.

You do not need a doctor's referral to have your child evaluated for services.

Find more information, including what to say when you make these important calls, visit www.cdc.gov/Concerned.

Celebrating Children's Development and Improving Early Identification

CDC's "Learn the Signs. Act Early." Program

Milestones matter! CDC's "Learn the Signs. Act Early." program encourages parents and providers to learn the signs of healthy development, monitor every child's early development, and take action when there is a concern.

The program offers free checklists and other tools to make developmental monitoring practical and easy.

Identifying developmental delays and disabilities is important.

- 1 in 6 children aged 3–17 years have developmental disabilities conditions that affect how children play, learn, speak, act, or move.
- Many children with a developmental disability are not identified until after starting school.
- Early intervention (before school age) can have a significant impact on a child's ability to learn new skills as well as reduce the need for costly interventions over time.

The American Academy of Pediatrics recommends both developmental monitoring (also called surveillance) and developmental screening for all children.

The tools provided by "Learn the Signs. Act Early." encourage ongoing, parent-engaged, developmental monitoring and they support developmental screening.

"Learn the Signs. Act Early." improves early identification of developmental delays and disabilities by promoting parent-engaged developmental monitoring and facilitating early action on concerns.

It does this through the following:

- A health education campaign that promotes
 - Awareness of developmental milestones;
 - The importance of tracking milestones and acting early on concerns; and
 - The availability of free checklists, children's books, a mobile app, and other resources.
- Act Early Ambassadors who collaborate with early childhood programs in their states or territories to advance developmental monitoring and support developmental screening
- Research and evaluation to
 - Improve "Learn the Signs. Act Early." materials;
 - Develop strategies to implement materials in practice; and
 - Increase understanding of factors that influence developmental monitoring and referral for intervention.

"Our practice uses the Learn the Signs. Act Early. milestone checklists and they have significantly improved our ability to conduct developmental surveillance with our patients. Our parents and providers love these resources!"

—Pediatrician, FL

"Learn the Signs. Act Early."

"Learn the Signs. Act Early." materials are

- For parents, early care and education providers, healthcare providers, WIC staff, and others who work with young children;
- Helpful for discussions between parents and professionals about a child's development or developmental concerns;
- Intended to aid in the identification of children with developmental delays and disabilities;
- Free, based on research, and customizable with local contact information; and
- Available in English and Spanish to print or order online at www.cdc.gov/ActEarly/Materials.

"Learn the Signs. Act Early. fits perfectly with the work we do every day with families. The materials give our families a simple, concise overview of key milestones they can watch for in their children. And our staff is glad to have this additional support in talking with families about child development in a consistent, effective way." —WIC Manager, MO

Brain Building Basics[™]

We've made the science of early learning simple! Remember these 5 easy ways to help build your child's brain anytime.

Look

Children use their eyes to learn. See what catches your child's attention and talk about it. Or connect eye-to-eye, then smile, chat, hug, or make funny faces!

Chat

Children's brains light up when you talk, sing, or make sounds back and forth with them. Chat about your day, food, and what's around you, or string sounds together for a fun conversation!

Follow

Young children learn best when you follow their lead. Tune into your child's words, ideas! Then respond with your own words and actions.

Take Turns

Children learn from taking turns when you play, talk, or explore. After they go, take

Stretch

Children's brains grow strong when you help them stretch their learning further. Keep a moment going: ask your child a question that starts with what, when, where, how, or why!

What We Do:

The Gabriel Project of West Virginia benefits families without adequate financial resources to meet the tangible needs of a new baby. We provide baby necessities, such as new cribs, new car seats, diapers, formula, clothing, hygiene products and other items at no or low cost to our clients.

The Gabriel Project also recognizes that the needs of our clients go beyond tangible items. We support families in despair with understanding, compassionate listening and, if requested, prayer. We share child rearing experiences, offer information materials and answer general questions about baby care to improve parenting skills. And we make referrals to other sources of assistance that are beyond our mission.

We serve single parents, wed and unwed couples, homeless families, victims of domestic violence, families without jobs and those with meager income jobs, and families in unexpected economic hardships struggling to care for their young child. Although most of our clients are mothers, we also assist kinship caregivers with custody of a young child and who need our services.

Assistance provided by the Gabriel Project enhances the abilities of families to parent and nurture their children and to improve their quality of life. Gabriel Project assistance is primarily provided by volunteers called "Gabriel Angels", working from community client services sites in churches and other facilities.

The Gabriel Project is not a crisis pregnancy program. We do not offer pregnancy testing, pregnancy termination, adoption services, counseling or medical care. We also do not offer housing, utility assistance or direct financial payments to clients.

The Letters in PURPLE Stand for

The word Period means that the crying has a beginning and an end.

What is it?

The Period of Purple Crying is a new way to help parents understand this time during their baby's life, which is a part of typical development. It is often confusing and concerning because parents are often told the baby "has colic." When a baby is given medications to treat symptoms of colic it reinforces the idea that there is something wrong with the baby, while in fact it is a normal phase of development. The acronym that you see above is a memorable way to describe what is occurring within the life of the parents and babies. The PURPLE period of crying can begin as early as two weeks old and can continue until four months of age and peaks between 4-6 weeks of age. Many times, most crying occurs in the late afternoon and evening hours.

During this period of development, it may seem that the baby resists being soothed, even though some soothing methods may help. Sometimes the baby can cry for hours and still be healthy and normal. This can be discouraging for parents because sometimes the baby cries at the same times everyday and nothing that the parents do can calm the baby. Some parents believe that the baby is in pain and think they are in pain, but they are not.

"Is the baby not getting enough sleep?"

Until recently baby crying and sleep problems have been lumped together, but they are separate issues with different causes. Sleeping problems that usually involve babies waking up throughout the night do not occur until after 3 months of age.

Most babies go from short sleep and waking periods throughout the first 12 weeks of life. By 3-4 months of age two thirds of babies are 'sleeping through the night,' while one third continue to wake and cry out or otherwise get parents' attention. The babies who continue to wake throughout the night and disturb parents are know as night-time 'signalers.' These 'signalers,' are often healthy and within normal ranges of development except for waking up and calling out at night.

Soothing

Listening to a baby cry can be difficult. As a caregiver you feel responsible for all the children in your care and want to relate to their emotions. When a baby cries, we can get sucked into their distress, this is called emotional contagion and this is how humans relate to one another, especially in infancy. It can become difficult to stay focused on caring for the baby well when you can feel the baby's despair. Your mind may be speeding through all the questions that come to mind with a baby who cannot be soothed: Are you hungry? Are you hurt? What's wrong? Why are you crying? Why won't you stop crying?

The best thing that can be done is to stay calm. It may sound simple, but it can be hard to do when you are tired, frazzled, and worried about the baby. Keeping your emotions in check and staying calm is important for not only your sake but also for the baby. It is more difficult to calm a baby when you are upset.

Protecting

Many times, we just want to "fix," a problem. That does not work with babies, there is not much that can be done to change that. It is not your job to "fix," the baby. Understanding the baby's normal developmental stages is the first real step to making progress. The increased crying is normal and can be stressful for others. You must remember that the increased crying is not triggered by you. PURPLE crying is most likely to occur in late afternoons and evenings. It is important to remember that all babies cry, some more than others.

Helping families understand that this period of development is normal may help the baby, but it can also cause the parents to doubt themselves. By reassuring the parents the baby is just going through a period of development that is normal can go a long way in helping to protect the baby. Many people are not aware of their emotions before they reach a boiling point, because we can put the low-grade emotions into the background and are often missed altogether but the intensity can keep building which can be dangerous for a baby, such as Shaken Baby Syndrome.

The number one reason a child is shaken is because a parent or care giver becomes so frustrated with a baby's crying, they lose control and just shake them. The Period of PURPLE Crying can be one of the most frustrating times in your child's development, many parents and caregivers do not know anything about it, and is the time when most infants are shaken and abused. Shaken Baby Syndrome is caused by violent and forceful shaking of a baby. It is something that anyone would recognize as dangerous and life threatening.

Having a safe spot for the baby is crucial. This allows the ability to take a break. Caring for a young baby does make taking a break difficult. Taking a break can be a hard thing for a childcare provider, but it is an important practice that helps yourself and the baby feel comfortable. Taking a few steps away and having the baby out of reach can give you an opportunity to take long, deep breaths until you feel calm enough to pick the baby back up.

NEVER SHAKE A BABY!

Symptoms: The symptoms can vary, ranging from mild to severe. They may include:

- Convulsions (seizures)
- Decreased alertness
- Extreme irritability or other changes in behavior
- Lethargy, sleepiness, or not smiling
- Loss of consciousness
- Loss of vision
- No breathing
- Pale or bluish skin
- Poor feeding, lack of appetite
- Vomiting

There may not be any physical signs of injury, such as bruising, bleeding, or swelling. In some cases, the condition can be difficult to diagnose and may not be found during an office visit. However, rib fractures are common and can be seen on x-rays. An eye doctor may find bleeding behind the baby's eye or retinal detachment. There are, however, other causes of bleeding behind the eye and they should be ruled out before diagnosing shaken baby syndrome. Other factors must be considered.

First Aid: Call 911 or your local emergency number. Immediate emergency treatment is necessary, if the child stops breathing before emergency help arrives, begin CPR. If the child is vomiting:

- And you do not think there is a spinal injury, turn the child's head to one side to prevent the baby from choking and breathing in vomit to the lungs (aspiration).
- And you do think there is a spinal injury, carefully roll the child's whole body to one side at the same time (as if rolling a log) while protecting the neck to prevent choking and aspiration.

Do Not

- Do not pick up or shake the child to wake him or her up.
- Do not attempt to give the child anything by mouth.

When to Contact a Medical Professional: Call your health care provider if a child has any of the above signs or symptoms, regardless of how mild or severe they are. Also call if you think a child has shaken baby syndrome. If you think a child is in immediate danger because of neglect, you should call 911 or the local emergency number. If you suspect that a child is being abused, report it right away. Most states have a child abuse hotline. You may also use the Childhelp National Child Abuse Hotline at 1-800-4-A-Child (1800-422-4453).

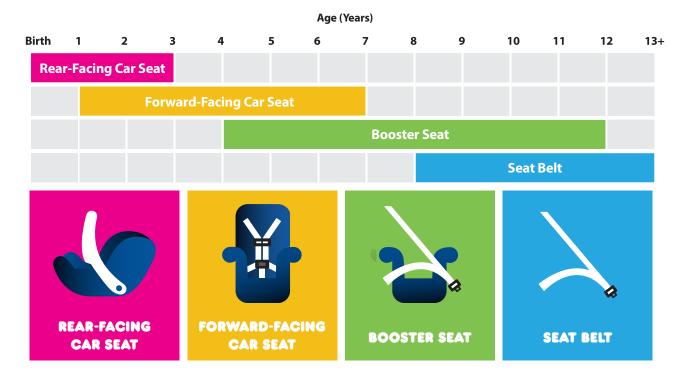

Prevention: These steps can help decrease the risk for shaken baby syndrome:

- Never shake a baby or child in play or in anger. Even gentle shaking can become violent shaking when you are angry.
- Do not hold your baby during an argument.
- If you find yourself becoming annoyed or angry with your baby, put the baby in their crib and leave the room. Try to calm down. Call someone for support.
- Call a friend or relative to come stay with the child if you feel out of control.
- Contact a local crisis hotline or child abuse hotline for help and guidance.
- Seek the help of a counselor and attend parenting classes.
- Do not ignore the signs if you suspect child abuse in your home or in the home of someone you know.

Car Seat Recommendations for Children

There are many car seat choices on the market. Use the information below to help you choose the type of car seat that best meets your child's needs.

- Select a car seat based on your child's age and size, choose a seat that fits in your vehicle, and use it every time.
- Always refer to your specific car seat manufacturer's instructions (check height and weight limits) and read the vehicle owner's manual on how to install the car seat using the seat belt or lower anchors and a tether, if available.
- To maximize safety, keep your child in the car seat for as long as possible, as long as the child fits within the manufacturer's height and weight requirements.
- Keep your child in the back seat at least through age 12.

Rear-Facing Car Seat

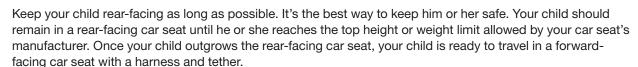

Birth - 12 Months

Your child under age 1 should always ride in a rear-facing car seat. There are different types of rear-facing car seats:

- Infant-only seats can only be used rear-facing.
- Convertible and All-in-One car seats typically have higher height and weight limits for the rear-facing position, allowing you to keep your child rear-facing for a longer period of time.

1 - 3 Years

Forward-Facing Car Seat

1 - 3 Years

Keep your child rear-facing as long as possible. It's the best way to keep him or her safe. Your child should remain in a rear-facing car seat until he or she reaches the top height or weight limit allowed by your car seat's manufacturer. Once your child outgrows the rear-facing car seat, your child is ready to travel in a forward-facing car seat with a harness and tether.

4 - 7 Years

Keep your child in a forward-facing car seat with a harness and tether until he or she reaches the top height or weight limit allowed by your car seat's manufacturer. Once your child outgrows the forward-facing car seat with a harness, it's time to travel in a booster seat, but still in the back seat.

Booster Seat

4 - 7 Years

Keep your child in a forward-facing car seat with a harness and tether until he or she reaches the top height or weight limit allowed by your car seat's manufacturer. Once your child outgrows the forward-facing car seat with a harness, it's time to travel in a booster seat, but still in the back seat.

8 - 12 Years

Keep your child in a booster seat until he or she is big enough to fit in a seat belt properly. For a seat belt to fit properly the lap belt must lie snugly across the upper thighs, not the stomach. The shoulder belt should lie snug across the shoulder and chest and not cross the neck or face. Remember: your child should still ride in the back seat because it's safer there.

Your car heats up faster than you think. Help reduce the number of deaths from heatstroke by remembering to ACT.

- A: Avoid heatstroke-related injury and death by never leaving your child alone in a car, not even for a minute.
- C: Create reminders by putting something in the back of your car next to your child such as a briefcase, a purse or a cell phone that is needed at your final destination.
- T: Take action. If you see a child alone in a car, call 911.

SIGNS OF CHILD ABUSE

Below are indicators of child abuse that can include—but are not limited to—these signs.

Some signs that a child is experiencing violence or abuse are more obvious than others. Trust your insincts. Suspected abuse is enough of a reason to contact the authories. You do not need proof.

Unexplained injuries.
Visible signs of physical abuse may include unexplained burns or bruises in the shape of objects.
You may also hear unconvincing explanations of a child's injuries.

Changes in behavior.

Abuse can lead to many changes in a child's behavior. Abused children often appear scared, anxious, depressed, withdrawn or more aggressive.

Returning to earlier behaviors.

Abused children may display behaviors shown at earlier ages, such as thumb-sucking, bed-wetting, fear of the dark or strangers. For some children, even loss of acquired language or memory problems may be an issue.

Fear of going home.

Abused children may express apprehension or anxiety about leaving school or about going places with the person who is abusing them.

Changes in eating.

The stress, fear and anxiety caused by abuse can lead to changes in a child's eating behaviors, which may result in weight gain or weight loss.

Changes in sleeping.

Abused children may have frequent nightmares or have difficulty falling asleep, and as a result may appear tired or fatigued.

7 Changes in school performance and attendance.

Abused children may have difficulty concentrating in school or have excessive absences, sometimes due to adults trying to hide the children's injuries from authorities.

Lack of personal care or hygiene.

Abused and neglected children may appear uncared for. They may present as consistently dirty and have severe body odor, or they may lack sufficient clothing for the weather.

Risk-taking behaviors.

Young people who are being abused may engage in high-risk activities such as using drugs or alcohol or carrying a weapon.

Inappropriate sexual behaviors.

Children who have been sexually abused may exhibit overly sexualized behavior or use explicit sexual language.

If you suspect a child is in immediate danger, call 911.

If you suspect a child is being abused or neglected, call the WV hotline: 1-800-352-6513.

IF A CHILD DISCLOSES:

DO

- · Remain calm.
- Believe the child.
- Allow the child to talk.
- Show interest and concern.
- Reassure and support the child.
- Take action. It could save a child's life.
- Report within 24 hours, as mandated by WV law.

DON'T

- Panic or overreact.
- Press the child to talk.
- Promise anything you can't control.
- Confront the offender.
- Blame or minimize the child's feelings.
- · Overwhelm the child with questions.

Remember, you are obligated by law to report suspected child abuse.

REASONS TO BELIEVE CHILDREN WHEN THEY DISCLOSE ABUSE

It happens more often than we think. Studies show that 1 in 10 children will be sexually abused before age 18.¹ Every year in West Virginia, more than 4,000 children are assessed at a Child Advocacy Center because of allegations of abuse.²

More than 90 percent of the time, children are abused by someone they know,³ often someone who is supposed to protect them—a person in a position of trust or authority. In almost every case, the only witnesses to this crime are the perpetrator and the victim. Perpetrators often tell the child to keep the abuse a secret or that no one will believe them; the child may even feel the abuse was their fault. For these and many other reasons, children rarely report abuse immediately. Most victims never tell anyone until several years after the abuse, if they ever disclose at all.

False reports are very uncommon.
Only 2–5% of reports of child sexual abuse are fabricated. Most reports of abuse that turn out to be false are made by adults, not children.⁴

Your response matters.

Adult survivors of abuse often say being listened to and believed was an important part of their healing.

ACES AWARE.
WHY YOU SHOULD CARE.

HELPING PREVENT ADVERSE CHILDHOOD EXPERIENCES

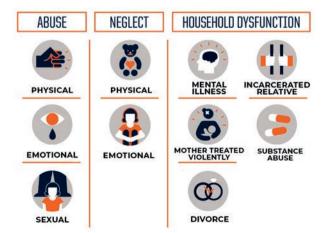

GROUNDBREAKING STUDY

The Center for Disease Control (CDC) and Kaiser Permanente conducted a groundbreaking research study published in 1998 that demonstrated a connection between early hardship or Adverse Childhood Experiences (ACEs) and having health and social problems as an adult.

WHAT ARE ACES?

(ACEs) are any type of abuse, neglect or other traumatic experience that can occur to individuals under the age of 18.

There are 10 types of experiences that can give researchers, mental health professionals, parents, caregivers and anyone who works with children a sense of the kinds of events which cause toxic and ongoing stress for a child. These experiences can be classified into three categories: abuse, neglect and household dysfunction.

It is important to understand that ACEs do not only affect children, but when they accumulate and remain unaddressed, they can lead to lifelong health consequences.

AS THE NUMBER OF ACES
INCREASES, SO DOES THE RISK FOR
NEGATIVE HEALTH OUTCOMES

A score of 4 or more can make someone:

- 2 times as likely to be a smoker
- 12 times as likely to attempt suicide
- 7 times as likely to be an alcoholic
- 10 times as likely to use injected street drugs

WHAT ARE PCES?

In 2019, JAMA Pediatrics published a study showing that Positive Childhood Experiences (PCEs) have a similar correlation with long-term health outcomes.

There are 7 PCEs that can increase resilience and protect against risk for mental and physical illness. Adults who had many PCEs in their childhood have fewer problems related to health and wellbeing even if they had a history of ACEs.

The 7 PCEs determined to promote good mental health, resiliency, and success as adults include:

- 1. Ability to talk with family about feelings
- 2. Felt experience that family is supportive in difficult times
- 3. Enjoyment in participation in community traditions
- 4. Feeling of belonging in high school
- 5. Feeling of being supported by friends
- 6. Having at least two non-parent adults who genuinely care
- 7. Feeling safe and protected by an adult at home

The great news is that when parents and caregivers intentionally introduce PCEs, children are empowered with the necessary tools they will need for long-term success, happiness, and resilience.

The Four Building Blocks of HOPE

for families

Research shows that positive childhood experiences (PCEs) help children grow into healthy, resilient adults. The HOPE framework centers around the Four Building Blocks of HOPE, key types of PCEs that all children need to thrive. This resource is designed to help families increase access to the Building Blocks for their children.

Relationships

Safe and supportive relationships within the family and with other children and adults

Being in nurturing, supportive relationships are critical for children to develop into healthy, resilient adults. Individuals that recall having these types of relationships during childhood experience significantly lower rates of depression and poor mental health during adulthood.

What kinds of relationships are we talking about?

- Foundational relationships with parents who respond to a child's needs and offer warm, responsive reactions.
- Adults outside of the family who take a genuine interest in a child and support their growth and development.
- Healthy, close, and positive relationships with peers.

How can you promote access to safe and supportive relationships for your child(ren)?

Think about your positive relationships from childhood. What felt good about them?
 Are there things about those relationships that you can bring to your relationship with your child(ren)?

- 🛶 Healthy Outcomes from Positive Experiences
 - Play and connect with your child(ren) regularly! Be silly, move your bodies together, read a book, watch a movie. The options are endless!
 - Help your child make connections with other adults in your life- aunts, uncles, coaches, pastors. It takes a village, and the larger your child's village, the more opportunities they have for connection and support!

Environments

Safe, stable, and equitable environments where children can live, learn, and play.

Children who live, learn, and play in safe, stable, and equitable environments are less likely to experience poor mental and physical health as adults.

What do we mean by safe, stable, and equitable environments?

- A safe, stable environment secure in meeting a child's basic needs, including adequate food, shelter, and health care.
- A nurturing home where a child is emotionally secure.
- A stable school environment where children feel valued and receive high-quality education.
- A community environment to play and interact with other children safely and equitably.

How can you promote access to safe, stable, and equitable environments?

- Check your house for safety issues including access to guns, medications, alcohol, and drugs. Create a plan to address any identified risks.
- Talk with your child(ren) about school. Do they feel safe there? Are they being treated well by their peers? If not, connect with their teacher and brainstorm solutions.
- Help your child find safe places to play outdoors. Is there a backyard space or local park where they can safely play with friends?

Engagement

Opportunities for social and civic engagement to develop a sense of belonging and connectedness.

Children need to feel connected to their communities, loved, and appreciated. Involvement in social institutions and environments, awareness of cultural customs and traditions, and a sense that they matter and belong helps them develop into secure and resilient adults.

What are some examples of social and civic engagement?

- Being involved in projects, peer mentoring, or community service through one's school or religious organization.
- Participating in family and cultural traditions.
- Joining a music, art, or sports group.

How can you promote access to social and civic engagement?

- Sign your child up for after school activities that interest them.
- Consider volunteering in the community as a family.
- Get involved in your place of worship, if that feels supportive. Many spiritual and religious institutions have youth groups or classes geared towards children.
- Develop a sense of mattering in your child by encouraging them to engage in household tasks.

Emotional Growth

Opportunities for emotional growth where children feel supported through difficult events and emotions.

Children need to have a lot of opportunities to develop their sense of self-awareness and social cognition, learn how to self-regulate emotions and behavior, and acquire skills needed to respond functionally and productively to challenges. Many of these skills arise during child-centered play.

Some children will pick up these skills naturally, but others may need adults to help them name and understand their own feelings. Either way, these skills are critical for children to be able to become resilient, emotionally healthy adults.

What do we mean by opportunities for social and emotional growth?

- Developing a sense of emotional and behavioral self-regulation.
- Having the ability to respond to challenges in a productive way.
- Developing key social and culturally-appropriate communication and interpersonal skills.

How can you support social and emotional growth in your child(ren)?

- Help children name their feelings as they arise and talk about what that feeling feels like in the child's body.
- Normalize disagreements with friends, and model or role play about how to disagree respectively and productively.
- Make time for unstructured play with friends and siblings.

Pool Safety Tips

www.poolsafety.gov

1. Never leave a child unattended in or near water.

Always watch children when they are in or near water, and never leave them unattended. Designate an official Water Watcher, an adult tasked with supervising children in the water. That should be their only task-they shouldn't be reading, texting, or playing games on their phone. Have a phone close by at all times in case you need to call for help, and if a child is missing, check the pool first. Even if a lifeguard is present, parents and care givers should still take the responsibility of being a designated Water Watcher. When any lifeguard chair is empty, the remaining lifeguards may not be able to see the entire pool and when lifeguards are seated in low chairs, their view can be blocked by patrons in the pool.

2. Teach children how to swim.

Swimming is not only fun, it's a life saving skill. Enroll children in swimming lessons; there are many free or reduced cost options available from your local YMCA, USA Swimming Chapter, or Parks and Recreation Department.

3. Teach children to stay away from drains.

Do not play or swim near drains or suction outlets, especially in spas and shallow pools, and never enter a pool or spa that has a loose, broken, or missing drain cover. Children's hair limbs, jewelry, or bathing suits can get stuck in a drain or suction opening. When using a spa, be sure to locate the emergency vacuum shut off before getting in the water.

4. Ensure all pools and spas-both in your backyard and any public pool you may visit-have compliant drain covers.

Virginia Graeme Baker, for whom the Pool and Spa Safety Act is named, died from drowning due to a suction entrapment from a faulty drain cover. All public pools and spas must have drain grates or covers that meet safety standards to avoid incidents like the one that took Graeme's life. Powerful suction from a pool or spa drain can even trap an adult.

5. Install proper barriers, covers, and alarms on and around your pool and spa.

Proper fences, barriers, alarms, and covers can be lifesaving devices. A fence of at least four feet in height should surround the pool or spa on all sides and should not be climbable by children. The water should only be accessible through a self-closing, self-latching gate. Teach children to never try to climb over the gate or fence. Install a door alarm from the house to the pol area, and keep pool and spa covers in working order.

6. Know how to perform CPR on children and adults.

Often bystanders are the first to aid a drowning victim, so learning CPR can help save a life. Once you are CPR certified, make sure to keep your certification current. CPR classes are available through many hospitals, community centers, or by contacting the American Red Cross.

7. Visit https://www.poolsafety.gov/parents/safety-tips/ to take the Pool Safety Pledge.

This online call to action is a reminder to stay safe around the water.

Supporting children through holidays and celebrations

West Virginia Infant/Toddler Mental Health Association I www.nurturingwvbabies.org

PREPARING CHILDREN FOR HOLIDAYS AND CELEBRATIONS

The crowds, the scheduled events, family and community gatherings! Whew! Celebrating holidays can be exciting, and overwhelming, especially for children who are often off of their regular routine, and around larger groups of people. Be accepting, patient, and kind during these times-not only to children-but to yourself. Let go of preconceived ideas and focus on creating memories, not having the "perfect" holiday.

READING CUES

Children can tell you a lot about how they are feeling, if we are willing to read their cues. It's important to remember, especially during the holidays, that children aren't "mini-adults". Cues that children are feeling overwhelmed include: crying, fidgeting, whining, rubbing eyes, or feeling irritable. It's ok for children to have downtime, take a nap, or leave the event early. Encourage them to participate, but don't force them.

A WORD ABOUT RELATIVES

Try to prepare children before meeting with relatives they may be unfamiliar with. Don't force children to give hugs and kisses to relatives they don't know. While children won't be able to sit for long periods of time and listen to family stories, they do like to participate as part of the group. By bringing books or small toys, the child can share and play.

TIPS AND TRICKS

- Bring a snack for the child, especially if you will be gone for a while.
- Try to stick to routines as much as possible, but allow for fun opportunities that may come up.
- Social stories can help in preparing children for family gatherings or holiday celebrations. Here are some examples.

Understanding Bullying

How can we prevent bullying?

The ultimate goal is to stop bullying before it starts. Research on preventing and addressing bullying is still developing. School-based bullying prevention programs are widely implemented, but infrequently evaluated. Based on a review of the limited research on school-based bullying prevention, the following program elements are promising:⁷

- · Improving supervision of students
- Using school rules and behavior management techniques in the classroom and throughout the school to detect and address bullying by providing consequences for bullying
- Having a whole school anti-bullying policy, and enforcing that policy consistently
- Promoting cooperation among different professionals and between school staff and parents

How does CDC approach bullying prevention?

CDC uses a four-step approach to address public health problems like bullying.

Step 1: Define and monitor the problem

Before we can prevent bullying, we need to know how big the problem is, where it is, and who it affects. CDC learns about a problem by gathering and studying data. These data are critical because they help us know where prevention is most needed.

Step 2: Identify risk and protective factors

It is not enough to know that bullying is affecting a certain group of people in a certain area. We also need to know why. CDC conducts and supports research to answer this question. We can then develop programs to reduce or get rid of risk factors and increase protective factors.

Step 3: Develop and test prevention strategies

Using information gathered in research, CDC develops and tests strategies to prevent bullying.

Step 4: Ensure widespread adoption

In this final step, CDC shares the best prevention strategies. CDC may also provide funding or technical help so communities can adopt these strategies.

WV Universal Pre-K

Since the induction of West Virginia Universal Pre-K in 2002, West Virginia has been a national pioneer in developing and maitaining a statewide pre-k program for all four-year-olds and threeyear-olds with special needs. Conception of pre-k in the state began as early as 1983 with legislation that provided local school boards the ability to offer preschool. Following this initial legislation, localized efforts were made to support pre-k during in the 1980's and 1990's. State lawmakers solidified the state's commitment to pre-k with the passage of an early childhood education programs bill at the conclusion of the 2002 legislative session. From that point forward, W.Va. Code §18-5-44 has mandated that the West Virginia Board of Education, in collaboration with the Secretary of the West Virginia Department of Health and Human Resources, ensure that every eligible child have access to high quality pre-k by the 2012-2013 school year. County boards of education were, at the time, required to develop pre-k programs with existing community programs, including Head Start and licensed child care centers. With state laws and research illustrating a positive growth for young children and return on investment, West Virginia continues to strengthen its efforts to early childhood education. In light of research that continues to show how high quality early education experiences, teacher continuity, and other social and health services can support children's optimal development and well-being, West Virginia maintains it's commitment to high-quality early childhood education. Today, WV Universal Pre-K is available in all 55 counties.

Find My WV Pre-K is an application that includes program information for each WV Universal Pre-K classroom by city and county. To find a WV Universal Pre-K Program near you, visit https://webtop.k.12.wv.us/0/apps/find-my-pre-k/

Women and Anxiety

What is anxiety?

Anxiety is a feeling of worry, nervousness, or fear about an event or situation. It is a normal reaction to stress. Anxiety can help you stay alert for a challenging situation at work, study harder for an exam, or remain focused on an important speech. In general, it helps you cope. When it becomes hard to control and affects your day-to-day life, it can be disabling.

What is an anxiety disorder?

Anxiety disorders happen when excessive anxiety interferes with your everyday activities such as going to work or school or spending time with friends or family. Anxiety disorders are serious mental illnesses.

Anxiety disorders are the most common mental disorders in the United States. They affect up to 40 million American adults each year. Women are more than twice as likely as men to develop an anxiety disorder in their lifetime. Anxiety disorders are highly treatable, yet less than 37% of those suffering are treated.

What are the major types of anxiety disorders?

There are several major types of anxiety disorders. They all have their own traits and impact people in distinct ways.

- Generalized anxiety disorder (GAD) causes excessive worry about regular aspects of life, like family or income.
 It can happen daily and make it hard to get through the day or sleep at night. GAD and major depression often occur together.
- Panic disorder involves frequent and sudden panic attacks, which are unexpected feelings of terror that happen without warning. Panic attacks can occur when there is no direct danger.
- Phobias are a strong fear of something of little to no threat. This can include traveling by air or being around a large group of people.

What are the symptoms of anxiety disorders?

Anxiety disorders come with a mix of symptoms. They can vary by person and the type of anxiety disorder you have. Symptoms can also impact how you live and spend time with others.

There are many symptoms of anxiety. The symptoms below are shared across several types of anxiety disorders:

- Anxious thoughts or beliefs
- Feelings of fear and dread
- Physical symptoms like a fast heartbeat or nausea
- Changes in behavior like avoiding previous normal activities

What causes anxiety disorders?

Several factors can increase the risk of developing an anxiety disorder. They can vary from one woman to another. A few common risk factors include:

- Traumatic events in childhood or adulthood
- Hormonal changes during one's menstrual cycle
- A family history of anxiety or other mental disorders

What are common treatment options?

For some people, treatment can help ease anxiety symptoms. There are several types of treatments for anxiety available to help you manage your symptoms every day, such as:

- Counseling (psychotherapy or talk therapy)
 This form of treatment includes talking with a trained mental health professional. Together, you can work through managing your anxiety.
- Medicine

Medicine does not cure anxiety disorders but can help relieve symptoms. Health care providers can prescribe medicines for anxiety. The most common classes of medicines used to combat anxiety disorders are antidepressants, anti-anxiety medicines (such as benzodiazepines), and beta-blockers.

Talk with your health care provider to find out what treatment is right for you. You should also talk with your provider about the risks, benefits, and side effects before you start or stop a medical treatment.

Women and Anxiety

How does my physical health affect my mental health?

People who are not physically healthy may have trouble staying mentally healthy. People living with chronic (long-term) health problems such as diabetes or heart disease are often more likely to have higher levels of stress and anxiety. Having a chronic disease does not always mean you will have a mental health condition like an anxiety disorder, but if you are struggling with both, know that you are not alone. Support groups and health care professionals can help. Healthy eating and other healthy habits, like exercise, yoga, or meditation can help improve physical health and reduce anxiety.

What should you do if you think you have an anxiety disorder?

Set up a visit to see a health care provider.

At this visit, your primary care doctor will conduct an initial mental health screening. From there, they can refer you to a mental health specialist.

Get involved in your care. Be open about your symptoms and listen to your options. Give your input on the options you feel could be a good fit for you.

Turn to people you trust for support. As you navigate life with an anxiety disorder, it helps to have people in your life that you trust. Find friends and support groups that you know will listen to your concerns and help you through tough times.

Call or text the Suicide and Crisis Lifeline at 988 if you have immediate concerns about your mental health.

The Lifeline provides 24/7, free and confidential support for people in distress, and prevention and crisis resources for you or your loved ones in the United States. Call 911 if you or someone you know is in immediate danger or go to the nearest emergency room.

What do you need to know about anxiety disorders and pregnancy?

If you are thinking about becoming pregnant, are pregnant, or are breastfeeding, you should talk with your health care provider about any medicines you may take for anxiety. Some medicines can affect your unborn baby, but untreated mental health conditions can also affect an unborn baby. Some medicines may also pass to your baby through breast milk. Talk with your provider about what treatments are safe for you and your baby.

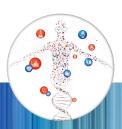

During pregnancy or as a new mother, you may feel overwhelmed at times. Mental health support and resources are available through the National Maternal Mental Health Hotline. It is free, confidential, and available 24/7. Call or text 1-833-TLC-MAMA (1-833-852-6262).

Talk with your health care provider about all medical treatment options. Discuss their risks and benefits. Your provider can answer all your questions Together, you can decide which treatment is right for you.

Home and Community-Based Services

What is a Medicaid Waiver?

A Medicaid waiver does not have the same rules that normally apply to the Medicaid program. The Medicaid waiver program allows states to expand coverage, reduce costs, and improve care for people who would otherwise be in an institution, hospital, or nursing home. As a result, Medicaid members can make the choice to remain home with family, and caregivers can receive help with care services.

For Medicaid members living at home, like seniors, people with disabilities, and children with serious emotional disorders who require assistance, there are four waiver programs available.

Intellectual and/or Developmental Disabilities Waiver

The Intellectual/Developmental Disabilities Waiver (IDDW) program is for children and adults with disabilities. The program provides services that help to teach, train, support, guide and assist members reach the highest level of independence possible in their lives.

The IDDW program, formerly MR/DD Waiver program, provides these services in homes and areas where the member lives, works, and shops instead of in Intermediate Care Facilities for Individuals with Intellectual Disabilities (ICF/IID).

Traumatic Brain Injury Waiver

The Traumatic Brain Injury Waiver (TBIW) program provides support at home for members three years and older with a traumatic brain injury. It waives some of the rules to allow people who live in West Virginia to receive support to live at home. Home and Community-Based Waiver Services are for people who meet the medical and financial requirements for the program. The program promotes choice, independence, respect, dignity and involvement with the community.

Aged and Disabled Waiver

The Aged and Disabled Waiver (ADW) program is a long-term care option that provides in-home care and community help. It allows a person to remain at or return home instead of receiving nursing home care. Services in the program promote choice, self-reliance, respect and community care.

Children with Serious Emotional Disorders Waiver

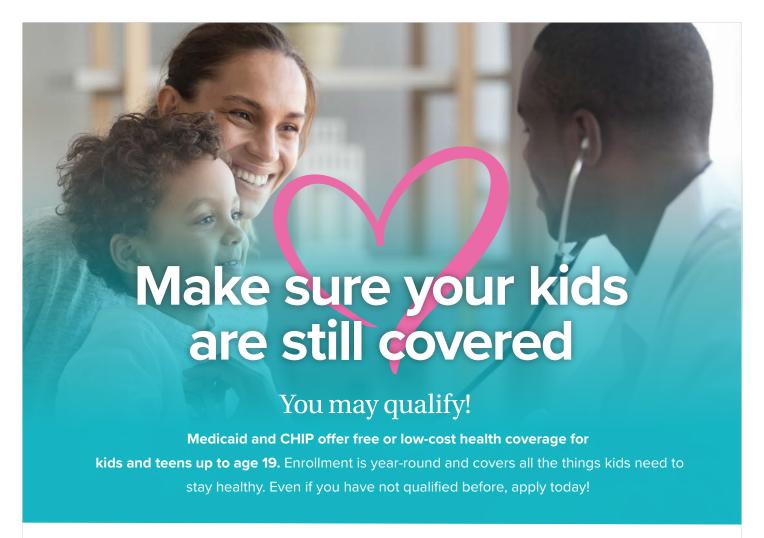

The CSEDW program provides additional Medicaid support to children from ages three to 21 with serious mental, behavioral, or emotional health needs. The program helps keep children with their families at home or in the community instead of going to a care facility or a group home. While they are at home or in the community, they receive services to improve their condition.

CSEDW is a West Virginia Medicaid Home and Community Based Services (HCBS) waiver program that allows children with serious emotional disorders receive additional services based on the National Wraparound Initiative model. This model uses the strengths of families and each person to start growing and changing. This model also helps the child and their family get the skills they need to deal with challenges and helps keep the child stable at home.

The model also focuses on the child's needs and their family. A child who has challenging behaviors is the center of the process. They are involved in the plan to help develop the skills that are required to get stable and improve their ability to deal with the situation. The goal is to give the child the ability to reach their personal goals.

LIGHTHOUSE Program

What is the LIGHTHOUSE Program?

The LIGHTHOUSE Program began in 2007 to meet a growing need for in-home senior services through out West Virginia. By receiving a variety of supportive assistance through the program, seniors are able to remain in their communities and continue to live in the comfort of their own homes.

Who is eligible for the LIGHTHOUSE Program?

There are three criteria:

How many hours of service can be provided and who provides them?

An individual can receive up to sixty hours of LIGHTHOUSE services per month, based on need and availability of caregivers. Senior aging programs in each county employ caregivers who provide in-home assistance through the program.

Is there a fee for LIGHTHOUSE services?

Yes. The fee for services depends upon the individual income of the recipient or, in the case of a married couple, the combined income of the service recipient and spouse.

To learn more about the LIGHTHOUSE Program, please contact your county senior program, or call the West Virginia Bureau of Senior Services toll-free at 1-877-987-3646.

Be Red Cross Ready

Get a kit. Make a plan. Be informed.

It's important to prepare for possible disasters and other emergencies. Natural and human-caused disasters can strike suddenly, at any time and anywhere. There are three actions everyone can take that can help make a difference...Get a kit. Make a plan. Be informed.

Be Red Cross Ready Checklist

- I know what emergencies or disasters are most likely to occur in my community.
- ☐ I have a family disaster plan and have practiced it.
- ☐ I have an emergency preparedness kit.

- At least one member of my household is trained in CPR/AED use.
- ☐ I have taken action to help my community prepare.

At a minimum, have the basic supplies listed below.

Keep supplies in an easy-to-carry emergency preparedness kit that you can use at home or take with you in case you must evacuate.

- Water: one gallon per person, per day (3-day supply for evacuation, 2-week supply for home)
 Food: non-perishable, easy-to-prepare items (3-day supply for evacuation, 2-week supply for home)
 Flashlight
 Battery-powered or hand-crank radio (NOAA Weather Radio, if possible)
 Extra batteries
- First aid kit Medications (7-day supply) and medical items
- Multi-purpose tool
 Sanitation and personal hygiene items
- Copies of personal documents (medication list and pertinent medical information, proof of address, deed/lease to home, passports, birth certificates, insurance policies)
 Current digital photos of loved ones, updated every six months, especially for children
 Cell phone with chargers
 Family and emergency contact information
 Extra cash
 Emergency blanket
 Map(s) of the area

Consider the needs of all family members and add supplies to your kit. Suggested items to help meet additional needs are:

- Medical supplies (hearing aids with extra batteries, glasses, contact lenses, syringes, cane)
 Baby supplies (bottles, formula, baby food, diapers)
 Games and activities for children
 Pet supplies (collar, leash, ID, food, carrier, bowl)
 Two-way radios
- Extra set of car keys and house keys
 Manual can opener

Additional supplies to keep at home or in your kit based on the types of disasters common to your area:

- Whistle N95 or surgical masks Matches Rain gear
- Towels
 Work gloves
 Tools/supplies for securing your home
- Extra clothing, hat and sturdy shoes
 Plastic sheeting
 Duct tape
 Scissors
 Household liquid bleach
 Entertainment items
- Blankets or sleeping bags Sunscreen Insect Repellent

Make a plan

- Meet with your family or household members.
- Discuss how to prepare and respond to emergencies that are most likely to happen where you live, learn, work and play.
- Identify responsibilities for each member of your household and plan to work together as a team.
- If a family member is in the military or engages in extended business travel on a regular basis, plan how you would respond if they were away.
- If you or a member of your household is an individual with access or functional needs, including a disability, consider developing a comprehensive evacuation plan in advance with family, care providers and care attendants, as appropriate. Complete a personal assessment of functional abilities and possible needs during and after an emergency or disaster situation, and create a personal support network to assist.

Plan what to do in case you are separated during an emergency

- · Choose two places to meet-
 - Right outside your home in case of a sudden emergency, such as a fire.
 - 2. Outside your neighborhood, in case you cannot return home or are asked to evacuate.

Consider any transportation challenges that might be encountered by individuals that use mobility assistive equipment.

- Choose an out-of-area emergency contact person. It may be easier to text or call long distance if local phone lines are overloaded or out of service. Everyone should memorize emergency contact information and have it in writing or programmed into their cell phones.
- Identify alternative ways to communicate (email, text, call, mail, through a third party, etc).

Plan what to do if you have to evacuate

 Decide where you would go and what route you would take to get there. You may choose to go to a hotel or motel, stay with friends or relatives in a safe location or go to an evacuation shelter if necessary.

Download the Red Cross Emergency App or, go to redcross.org and search emergency app.

This app provides expert advice on how to prepare and respond to disasters and includes a map with open Red Cross shelters.

- Have at least one alternate location if the preferred location is not accessible.
- Practice evacuating your home twice a year. Drive your planned evacuation route and plot alternate routes on your map in case roads are impassable. Ensure all household/family members know the evacuation route, alternate routes, primary and alternate meeting destination.
- Plan ahead for your pets. Keep a phone list of "pet friendly" motels/hotels and animal shelters that are along your evacuation routes.

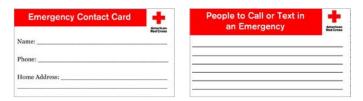

Learn what disasters or emergencies may occur in your area.

These events can range from those affecting only you and your family, like a home fire or medical emergency, to those affecting your entire community, like an earthquake or flood.

- Identify how local authorities will notify you during a disaster and how you will get information, whether through local radio, TV or NOAA Weather Radio stations or channels.
- Know the difference between different weather alerts such as "watches" and "warnings" and what actions to take in each.
- Know what actions to take to protect yourself during disasters that may occur in areas where you travel or have moved recently. For example, if you travel to a place where earthquakes are common and you are not familiar with them, make sure you know what to do to protect yourself should one occur.
- When a major disaster occurs, your community can change in an instant. Loved ones may be hurt and emergency response is likely to be delayed. Make sure that at least one member of your household is trained in first aid and CPR and knows how to use an automated external defibrillator (AED). This training is useful in many emergency situations.
- Share what you have learned with your family, household and neighbors and encourage them to be informed too.

Emergency Contact Cards for All Household Members

Get your cards online here or, go to redcross.org and search emergency contact.

- Print one card for each family member.
- Write the contact information for each household member, such as work, school and cell phone numbers.
- Ensure contacts for relatives include familiar names (grandma, aunt, etc.) as well as actual names when making cards for children.
- Fold the card so it fits in your pocket, wallet or purse.
- Carry the card with you so it is available in the event of a disaster or other emergency.

Let Your Family Know You're Safe

Tell your loved ones about the American Red Cross Safe and Well Website or access through redcross.org by searching safe and well. This internet-based tool should be integrated into your emergency communications plan. People within a disaster-affected area can register themselves as "safe and well" and concerned family and friends who know the person's phone number or address can search for messages posted by those who self-register. If you don't have internet access, call 1-800-RED CROSS to register yourself and your family.

Helping Parents Prepare for Disaster

Tip Sheet

Anyone who is a parent knows how hard it can be to raise a child. Add a stressful situation, like a natural disaster or other emergencies, and a difficult job gets even harder. When disasters happen, it is important to remember the health and well-being of your children. If you can be prepared for potential disaster situations, your children are likely to handle it better, too.

What Can I Do To Prepare?

possible, have an out-of-town family

- Make a plan with your family or the people you live with.
 - Discuss what type of disaster is likely to happen to you. Contact your local Red Cross, emergency management office or health department. Ask for advice, suggestions or information related to your situation.

• Decide how to stay in touch with your family or housemates if there is a disaster. Set up two meeting places: right outside your home and another location in case you are forced to leave your neighborhood. Make sure your children can reach both places safely and that they know how to get there. If contact. Make sure your children know this address and telephone number. Also make sure your contact knows your emergency plans.

Helping Parents Prepare for Disaster

• Put together a disaster supply kit.

Items should include:

- Three gallons of water per person
- A three-day supply of food
- Flashlight and batteries
- First-Aid kit
- Battery-operated radio
- Complete change of clothing for each person
- Spare set of keys and identification cards
- Cash and copies of credit cards
- Matches in a waterproof container
- Pet supplies (food, medication)

If you have a baby, small child, or a senior living with you, consider any special needs they may have, including diapers, bottles and formula for your baby, favorite toys and belongings for your child, and prescription medications, extra eyeglasses or hearing aids for your senior or other family members who may need them.

• Learn about existing preparedness plans in your town.

If you have school-aged children, also be informed of their school emergency preparedness plans.

• Plan several evacuation routes.

- If possible, invest in the appropriate type of insurance coverage: flood, fire, earthquake, hurricane, or wind.
- Plan how to take care of your pets.
- Practice your plan before a disaster.

Helping Parents Cope with Disaster

Tip Sheet

Anyone who is a parent knows how hard it can be to raise a child. Add a stressful situation, like a natural disaster or other emergencies, and a difficult job gets even harder. When disasters happen, it is important to remember the health and well-being of yourself and your children. If you are prepared for potential disasters, you can be more confident in your ability to keep your family safe, and your children are likely to handle the disaster better as well.

It is difficult to predict how children will react when disasters occur. Some children may not seem to be upset while others may have an emotional reaction or a change in behavior. Changes in emotions and behaviors can occur immediately or after a short delay.

Potential Reactions to Disasters:

Common Emotions:

- Shock and surprise
- Anxiety and tension
- Confusion
- Fear or worry
- Grief
- Anger
- Guilt and shame
- Helplessness
- Isolation
- Despair and sadness
- Numbness
- Fear of being alone

Behavioral Changes:

- Crying
- Eating patterns
- Sleeping patterns
- Anger or short temper
- Fatigue
- Hyperactivity
- Restlessness
- Difficulty concentrating

When talking to your child, be sure to present a realistic picture that is both honest and manageable. Be aware that after a disaster, children may fear that:

- They will be separated from family, and they will be left alone.
- The event will happen again.
- Someone will be injured or killed.

Helping Parents Cope with Disaster

How Can I Help My Children Cope?

Regardless of your child's age, remember to:

- Model coping through calm reactions, even though you may be stressed. If you feel unable to control your emotions, seek out help and support from family or professionals.
- Keep routines as consistent as possible.
- Answer questions openly and honestly and at a level they can understand.
- Allow your children to talk about the event from their point-of-view. Let them know you will listen to their concerns and questions. Help them label and cope with their feelings. Let them know it is okay if they feel angry or sad.
- Reassure your children that you love and will care for them.
- Provide a peaceful household (and school experience).

Ages birth to 5:

- Children should have limited exposure to media and adult conversations about crisis and disaster.
- They should spend ample time with loving, reassuring adults.
- Parents should provide plenty of physical contact (for example, hugs and cuddles).
- Offer reassurance, especially at bedtime.
- Provide opportunities to be physically active.

Ages 6 to 12:

- Spend ample time with loving, reassuring adults.
- Provide verbal and physical reassurance that you are with them and will care for them.
- Limit repeated exposure to adult discussions and the news media. Watch with them and talk with them about what they are seeing and hearing, how they feel about it, and what it means for them and the family.
- Provide opportunities to talk and play, be creative and physically active.
- Provide reassurance, especially at bedtime.

Ages 13 to 18:

- Let them know your whereabouts and make sure you know where they will be.
- Provide time to talk and interact with peers.
- Allow opportunities to contribute in the family or assist others in responding to the crisis or community needs if they are interested.
- Give encouragement and support in taking care of themselves: eating well, sleeping sufficiently, exercising regularly.
- If you are staying in a shelter or in other unfamiliar surroundings, talk to your teen about staying safe.
- Talk with your teen about their feelings and discuss ways to help them cope.

Food Safety at Home

1. Clean

Always wash your food, hands, counters, and cooking tools.

- Wash hands in warm soapy water for at least 20 seconds.
 Do this before and after touching food.
- Wash your cutting boards, dishes, forks, spoons, knives, and counter tops with hot soapy water. Do this after working with each food item.
- Rinse fruits and veggies.
- Do not wash meat, poultry, fish, or eggs. If water splashes from the sink in the process of washing, it can spread bacteria.
- Clean the lids on canned goods before opening.

2. Separate (Keep Apart)

Keep raw foods to themselves. Germs can spread from one food to another.

- Keep raw meat, poultry, seafood, and eggs away from other foods.
 Do this in your shopping cart, bags, and fridge.
- Do not reuse marinades used on raw foods unless you bring them to a boil first.
- Use a special cutting board or plate for raw foods only.

3. Cook

Foods need to get hot and stay hot. Heat kills germs.

- Cook to safe temperatures:
 - Beef, Pork, Lamb 145 °F
 - Fish 145 °F
 - Ground Beef, Pork, Lamb 160 °F
 - Turkey, Chicken, Duck 165 °F
- Use a food thermometer to make sure that food is done. You can't always tell by looking.

4. Chill

Put food in the fridge right away.

- 2-Hour Rule: Put foods in the fridge or freezer within 2 hours after cooking or buying from the store.
 Do this within 1 hour if it is 90 degrees or hotter outside.
- Never thaw food by simply taking it out of the fridge. Thaw food:
 - In the fridge
 - Under cold water
 - In the microwave
- Marinate foods in the fridge.

Food Safety at Home

Why should you care about food safety?

Each year millions of people get sick from food illnesses. Food illness can cause you to feel like you have the flu. Food illness can also cause serious health problems, even death.

Think you have a food illness?

Call your doctor and get medical care right away.

- Save the food package, can, or carton.
- Call USDA at 1-888-674-6854 for meat, poultry, or eggs.
- Call FDA at 1-866-300-4374 for all other foods.
- Call your local health department if you think you got sick from food you ate in a restaurant or other food seller.

Who is at risk?

Anyone can get sick from eating spoiled food. Some people are more likely to get sick from food illnesses.

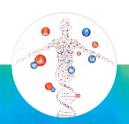

- Pregnant women
- Older Adults
- People with certain health conditions like cancer, HIV/AIDS, diabetes, and kidney disease

Some foods are more risky for these people. Talk to your doctor or other health provider about which foods are safe for you to eat.
